MAHALIA		Feature	2021	Joaquina Kalukango,Rob Demey,Danielle Brooks,Kenny Leon,Olivia Washington,Jason Dirden	Kenny Leon			Biopic of legendary gospel singer and civil rights pioneer, Mahalia Jackson. Raised in poverty in New Orleans, Mahalia Jackson overcame serious childhood illnesses through prayer and gospel music, which would later make her the most famous and influential black woman of the 1950s and 1960s—the Oprah of her time. A smart businesswoman as well as a powerful singer, Mahalia built up a fortune, though she lost much of it to the men she gave her heart to. Today, she is remembered for her role in supporting Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., singing "We Shall Overcome" at civil rights rallies, using her wealth to support the cause and famously whispering to MLK Jr. "Tell them about the dream, Martin," before King delivered his most famous speech. In 1972, after yet another deception by a man she thought loved her, she died of heart failure, but her legacy continues to live on.

The linguist replies promptly. They start a fast, funny and increasingly intimate e-mail dialogue, the kind you can only have with a stranger. A few weeks and many sent and received messages later, it becomes a virtual friendship. Leo and Emma first decide to leave their connection purely digital as a little escape from everyday life - because Leo simply can't get away from his ex-girlfriend Marlene and Emma is married to Bernhard and has two stepchildren. Nevertheless: The two confide in each other and get closer and closer on the fine line between total strangeness and non-binding intimacy. And this raises the question of whether they shouldn't meet face to face, because the butterflies that Leo and Emma now have in their stomach every time their e-mail inbox announces a new message with a "pling" are not just digital at all. But is it really only through words that one can really fall in love? And will the feelings of love sent, received and stored withstand an encounter in reality? And what if so?

VITA AND VIRGINIA (2018)	Biography, Drama, Romance	Feature	2019	Gemma Arterton, Emerald Fennell, Elizabeth Debicki	Chanya Button	IFC Films	NR	By the 1920s Virginia Woolf (Elizabeth Debicki) has reached the apex of modern world literature with her landmark novel, 'Mrs. Dalloway', but nothing seems to soothe the darkness that plagues her. She is powerless over the mood swings that alternately lift her to manic creative heights and then crush her under suffocating melancholia, driving her deeper into seclusion. Poems and letters of admiration from Vita Sackville-West (Gemma Arterton) lead to a courtship that is hardly concealed from their respective husbands. Soon, Virginia is enthralled by Vita. She is everything Virginia is not - extroverted, direct, in possession of a strongly magnetic personality and, as Virginia notes, a pair of the most "amazing legs". Focusing on the period in 1927-8 during which Woolf wrote 'Orlando', the novel their relationship inspired, 'Vita & Virginia' is the feature adaptation of actor and writer Dame Eileen Atkins' play of the same name.

TOMMY'S HONOUR	Biography,Drama,Romance	Feature	2017	Peter Mullan,Jack Lowden,Ophelia Lovibond,Sam Neill	Jason Connery	Roadside Attractions	PG	TOMMY'S HONOUR is based on the intimate and powerfully moving true story of the challenging relationship between 'Old' Tom and 'Young' Tommy Morris, the dynamic father-son team who ushered in the modern game of golf. As their fame and fortune grew exponentially, Scotland's Golf Royalty were touched by deep drama and personal tragedy. Matching his father's success by winning his first of four Opens at the age of 17, Tommy's flamboyance and fame outshine Tom's stellar playing record and respect as founder of the first Open Championship in 1860. Although their personal relationship is deeply strained by Young Tommy's ambition and drive, their professional relationship is triumphant front-page news. In stark contrast to his carefree public person, Tommy is embroiled in personal turmoil which ultimately leads him to rebel against both the aristocracy who gave him opportunity and his parent's disdain over his passionate, yet tragic, relationship with his wife Meg.

ONE THOUSAND ROPES	Drama	Feature	2016	Anapela Polataivao, Beulah Koale, Frankie Adams, Uelese Petaia	Tusi Tamasese			From the Writer and Director of The Orator - O Le Tulafale, One Thousand Ropes is a story of a father reconnecting with his daughter, set in Wellington New Zealand. Maea, once lived by his fists, but now old, has turned his powerful hands to healing and bread making. He strives to live a simple and peaceful life, remaining in the same housing estate he came to when he emigrated from Samoa many years ago, but his family have gone. He atones for his past by easing the pain of child bearing for young pregnant women and their families who seek his help; resisting the authorities who want him to modernise. He also contends at work with the threat of losing his job at a local bakery as new equipment takes over, and at home an abusive spirit who has moved in with him, relentlessly taunting him while providing company. When his youngest daughter returns to him, she arrives vulnerable: heavily pregnant and badly beaten. He struggles with the inner temptation and the encouragement from the men in his life, to take revenge in the way he knows best on one hand and on the other, to build the new family and companionship so desperately missing from his life. If he can return to his daughter, what he had taken from her mother, all their destinies will be reshaped. One Thousand Ropes is a deeply moving film about connections, redemption and new beginnings.
BANKSY JOB, THE	Documentary	Feature	2016	Daniel Nettleton, Giles Alderson, A.K. Forty-Seven	Ian Roderick Gray, Dylan Harvey			The insane true story of the heist that shocked the Art World! The equally mysterious and notorious artist Banksy dominates tales from the world of street art, but in The Banksy Job, the spotlight shines on another character-the gritty, charismatic, and larger-than-life, AK47-an ex-pom star and acid rave promoter turned self-anointed 'art terrorist.' Declaring himself the villain to Banksy's hero, AK47 sets out to swipe a well-known piece of Banksy's public art, in broad daylight, in Central London, no less. The ensuing heist thriller is told to us by AK47 himself, and a highly entertaining art-world caper begins. Blurring the lines between what is fiction and what is fact, Ian Roderick Gray and Dylan Harvey's debut film is a rollicking ride, a frenetic and adrenaline-fueled crime caper that catapults its audience from the London art scene to its underground, making for a feature film experience (almost) as wild, unbelievable, and insane as its protagonist.

A successful American sculptor, she has recently returned to the UK, where she spent much of her troubled youth. Now happily married, wealthy and settled, all that remains to make her life complete is to rebuild her relationship with Chloe, the daughter she was forced to give up nine years ago. So when Chloe agrees to come and live with her, Jess is optimistic that she can make amends and be a good mother once more. What Jess doesn't know is that Chloe has not come to stay because she wants to get to know her mother again. She has come because she is scared that a supernatural curse has claimed the life of her boyfriend, Danny, and is now coming for her. Chloe and Danny made the mistake of revisiting an abandoned house, once home to 'Ginger', a mysterious old woman said by some to be a witch. Local legend says that if you knock on her door then the vengeful ghost of Ginger will snatch you away to her hellish limbo. At first Jess puts Chloe's erratic behaviour down to the trauma of her past and the resentment she still feels for being abandoned. But soon Jess comes to realise that she is all that stands between her daughter and a formidable and terrifying supernatural force. Thrown into a battle for survival, Jess must learn the truth behind the legend of the witch and ultimately make the bravest sacrifice of all and knock on Ginger's door herself...

RUMBOS	Comedy,Drama,Romance	Feature	2016	Rafa Ordoñka,Pilar López de Ayala,Ernesto Alterio,Carmen Machi,Nora Navas,Miki Esparbé,Fernando Albizu,Karra Elejalde	Manuela Burió Moreno			"A big city. A hot summer night. Love stories criss-cross on a ride inside six vehicles: two cars, an ambulance, a taxi, a bus and a truck. In the vehicles, the characters carry their lives' heavy baggage: two teenagers in a stolen car on a high-speed joy ride, a taxi driver wounded by a recent betrayal, a truck driver with no emotional experience who's in love with a prostitute, a lover hardened by a thousand battles, a male nurse who doesn't know how to forget, a woman abandoned for no reason and a wife who's tired of waiting. Like leaves running down a stream, the vehicles drive down the streets on the edges of the city and converge into a bigger river, a back road where our characters will find themselves dragged in the same direction without knowing that their lives are connected. RUMBOS is a real-time tragicomedy where we delve into the lives of characters whose broken dreams, frustrations, longings and desires will crumble before the spectator's eyes in order to finally understand that their paths are inexorably linked."

GHOSTHUNTERS ON ICY TRAILS	Adventure,Animation,Comedy	Feature	2015	Anke Engelke,Milo Parker,Bastian Pastewka	Tobi Baumann			The Thompson parents are worried, because their eleven year-old son Tom often daydreams and is scared of lots of things, especially the dark, damp cellar beneath their apartment. Not entirely without reason, because it's there that one day he meets a bright green, slime-dripping ghost: Hugo is an ASG, an Averagely Spooky Ghost, but completely harmless and totally loveable – even if he is quite a handful as soon becomes obvious. But Hugo has a serious problem: a very dangerous Ancient Ice Ghost (AIG) has chased him out of his old house and now haunts it. This situation is a catastrophe for Hugo, because if he doesn't get back to his old haunt by the next full moon, he'll vanish forever. Tom wants to help Hugo and becomes friends with the clumsy ghost. Luckily the Central Ghosthunting Institute (CGI) has fired their best, if not always particularly nice ghosthunter: Hetty Cuminseed. She's simply not a team-player, says her boss, and there is only a limited need for old-school ghosthunters. Tom asks Hetty to help his new friend Hugo. Even Hetty, who is usually immune to sentimentality when it comes to ghosts, is touched by this unlikely friendship. She agrees to rid the haunted house of the AIG. Realising she can't defeat the powerful ghost alone, she requests help from the CGI ghosthunters. They have to act fast, because the ghost in the house is a real threat to the entire town. But the head of the CGI doesn't take Hetty seriously and refuses to work with her. She makes it crystal clear that only CGI ghosthunters are allowed to fight against ghosts, and Hetty has been fired. While the CGI ghosthunters are on the wrong track and still believe the AIG is hiding in Hugo's house, the ice ghost has found its way directly to their headquarters. A special team is born – three ghosthunters of the most unusual kind, who prove themselves through friendship, courage and self-confidence in the fight against the

EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES, THE (2015)	Documentary	Feature	2015	Russell Brand	Michael Winterbottom		NR	World-famous British comedian and activist Russell Brand joins forces with acclaimed director Michael Winterbottom on a polemical documentary about the financial crisis and gross inequality we currently face. Starting with the genesis of today's economic policies, with the arrival of Milton Friedman's school of thought in Reagan's leadership and Thatcher's UK, the film explores how these policies have come to dominate the western world. The rich have got richer, where a CEO of a major British company used to earn 10 times the average wage of his workers, now they earn 200 times. According to Oxfam, the richest 80 people in the world own as much as the poorest 3.5 billion. It would now take 300 years for the average cleaner, cleaning the offices of his senior boss, to earn the same salary taken home by the same boss last year. Milton Friedman once said that every crisis was an opportunity. The financial crisis of 2008 should have been a chance to reform the system for the benefit of everyone. But instead, austerity for everyone throughout Britain and Europe was the price to be paid for supporting the financial sector, with £131 billion spent by UK tax payers to keep the financial system afloat, while $30 trillion in support and subsidies went to Wall Street in the US. Using a mixture of documentary, interviews, archive footage and comedy, Russell Brand takes us from his hometown Grays in Essex, to the heart of London 'City' and on to the Big Apple. This daring film will shake up the world by revealing the bewildering truth about how the people at the bottom are paying for the luxuries of those at the top. Things can change...things do change.

MARGUERITE (2016)	Comedy,Drama,Music	Feature	2016	André Marcon,Catherine Frot	Xavier Giannoli	Cohen Media Group	R	1921, The beginning of the Golden Twenties. Not far from Paris. It is party day at Marguerite Dumont's castle. Like every year, an array of music lovers gathers around a great cause at the owner's place. Nobody knows much about this woman except that she is rich and that her whole life is devoted to her passion: music. Marguerite sings. She sings wholeheartedly, but she sings terribly out of tune. In ways quite similar to the Castafiore, Marguerite has been living her passion in her own bubble, and the hypocrite audience, always coming in for a good laugh, acts as if she was the diva she believes she is. When a young, provocative journalist decides to write a rave article on her latest performance, Marguerite starts to believe even further in her talent. This gives her the courage she needs to follow her dream. Despite her husband's reluctance, and with the help of a has-been divo, both funny and mean, she decides to train for her first recital in front of a crowd of complete strangers. Loosely inspired by the life of Florence Foster Jenkins.

FAREWELL, MY QUEEN	Drama, History, Romance	Feature	2012	Noémie Lvovsky, Xavier Beauvois, Diane Kruger, Virginie Ledoyen, Léa Seydoux	Benoit Jacquot	Cohen Media Group	R	Farewell, My Queen marks the return of acclaimed director Benoit Jacquot (A Single Girl, Seventh Heaven, Sade, Deep in the Woods) and brilliantly captures the passions, debauchery, occasional glimpses of nobility and ultimately the chaos that engulfed the court of Marie Antoinette in the final days before the full-scale outbreak of the Revolution. Based on the best-selling novel by Chantal Thomas, the film stars Léa Seydoux as one of Marie's ladies-in-waiting, seemingly innocent but quietly working her way into her mistress's special favors, until history tosses her fate onto a decidedly different path. With the action moving effortlessly from the gilded drawing rooms of the nobles to the back quarters of those who serve them, this is a period film at once accurate and sumptuous in its visual details and modern in its emotions. Diane Kruger gives her best performance to date as the ill-fated Queen and Virginie Ledoyen is the Queen's special friend Gabrielle de Polignac.

I AM (2011)	Documentary	Feature	2011	Jim Carrey, Coleman Barks, Marc Ian Barash, Chris Jordan	Tom Shadyac		PG-13	I AM is an utterly engaging and entertaining non-fiction film that poses two practical and provocative questions: what's wrong with our world, and what can we do to make it better? The filmmaker behind the inquiry is Tom Shadyac, one of Hollywood's leading comedy practitioners and the creative force behind such blockbusters as Ace Ventura, Liar Liar, The Nutty Professor, and Bruce Almighty. However, in I AM, Shadyac steps in front of the camera to recount what happened to him after a cycling accident left him incapacitated, possibly for good. Though he ultimately recovered, he emerged with a new sense of purpose, determined to share his own awakening to his prior life of excess and greed, and to investigate how he as an individual, and we as a race, could improve the way we live and walk in the world. http://www.iamthedoc.com/thefilm/

With every step of the way, he finds more reasons to mistrust her. Is Silvia a victim? A suspect? Or something else entirely? And can Tobin, coping with his own personal heartache, keep her safe? Though they must depend on one another, Silvia and Tobin couldn't be more different. Silvia's strengths are words, diplomacy and the subtleties of meaning, while Tobin is all about instinct, action and reading into the most primal human behaviors. Now, as the danger of a major assassination on U.S. soil grows and Silvia's life hangs in the balance, Silvia and Tobin play out a gripping dance of evasion and revelation that keeps them both guessing as they race to stop a terrifying international crisis before it's too late.

CHRONICLES OF RIDDICK	Action,Adventure,Sci-Fi	Feature	2004	Thandie Newton,Karl Urban,Ja Rule,Vin Diesel,Judi Dench,Colm Feore	David N. Tsohy	Universal Pictures	PG-13	It is a dark time in the universe. Planet after planet is falling to an unholy army of Necromongers—conquering warriors who offer ravaged worlds a simple choice—convert or die. Those who refuse their rule hope in vain for someone or something that will slow the spread of Necromongers. But rebels are short-lived and saviors, it seems, are in short supply. When things get bad, weary survivors turn to myths for comfort—murmured prophecies, vain hopes, legends of good vanquishing evil. But good isn't always the antidote to evil and legends can be wrong. Sometimes the only way to stop evil is not with good—but with another kind of evil. So an unlikely figure is summoned from exile and asked to join the fight: Riddick, who couldn't care less who's in charge of the universe, just as long as he's left alone. Since leaving a god-forgotten (and creature-ridden) planet in the Taurus system five years ago, the wanted fugitive hasn't looked back. Most of the time has been spent evading capture and ghosting whatever mercenaries are on his tail. To him, it's all the same, apocalypse or no—this one-man army is interested only in saving his own life. Get in his way and his gladly take yours. But something has been set in motion, and the coming confrontation propels Riddick into a series of epic, winner-take-all battles: from an idyllic, multicultural civilization under siege; to a subterranean prison carved beneath the surface of a hellish, volcanic planet; and finally, aboard the massive baroque Necro mothership and the seat of power in their black empire—the Basilica. In the final battle, it is foretold that the fate of all may depend upon the destiny of on Furyan.

BROTHERHOOD OF THE WOLF	Action, Adventure, Drama	Feature	2002	Samuel Le Bihan, Vincent Cassel, Mark Dacascos, Jérémie Renier	Christophe Gans		R	In 1765 something was stalking the mountains of southwestern France. A 'beast' that pounced on humans and animals with terrible ferocity. Indeed the beast became so notorious that the King of France dispatched envoys to find out what was happening and to kill the creature. By the end, the Beast of Gevaudan had killed over 100 people, to this day, no one is entirely sure what it was, wolf? hyena? or something supernatural? Whatever it was, shepherds seemed to be hit hardest. The Beast is a popular myth in France, albeit one rooted firmly in reality; somewhat surprisingly it is little known to the outside world, and perhaps incredibly it has never been made into a movie. Until now... Based on the true story of the Beast of the Gevaudan that terrorised France in the mid-XVIIIth century, the movie aims to tell first and explain afterwards. In the first part, a special envoy of the King of France, altogether biologist, explorer and philosopher, arrives in the Gevaudan region, in the mountainous central part of France. The Beast has been attacking women and children for months and nobody has quite been able to harm it or even take a good look at it. In the second part, our hero Chevalier de Fronsac will not only have to fight the Beast, but also ignorance, bigotry and conspiracy and will rely on two women, one an aristocrat, the other a prostitute, as well as the enigmatic Mani, an Iroquois he met in New-France (Canada).

James Caviezel stars as Private Witt, a deserter living in peace and harmony with the natives of a Pacific island paradise. Captured by the Navy, Witt is debriefed by a senior officer (Sean Penn) and returned to an active duty unit preparing for what will be the Battle of Guadalcanal. As Witt goes ashore in the company of his fellow soldiers, they meet diverse fates. Sergeant Keck (Woody Harrelson) is killed by an exploding grenade. Captain John Gaff (John Cusack) is an intelligent, sober leader facing the destruction of his command because his commanding officer Colonel Tall (Nick Nolte) is bucking for a general's star. Sergeant McCron (John Savage) loses his mind. Private Bell (Ben Chaplin) gets a "Dear John" letter from his beloved wife. However, as the U.S. troops advance up grassy slopes toward entrenched Japanese positions, it is Witt's voiced-over ruminations on life, death, and nature that are the real heart and soul of The Thin Red Line (1998). Adrien Brody appears as Private Fife, the major character of Jones' novel and the author's alter-ego, although Fife has been relegated to a minor supporting role by Malick's filmed adaptation.

LIFE LESS ORDINARY	Comedy, Crime, Fantasy	Feature	1997	Maury Chaykin, Delroy Lindo, Dan Hedaya, Stanley Tucci, Ian McNeice, Christopher Gornham, Ewan McGregor, Ian Holm, Judith Ivey, Tony Shalhoub, Cameron Diaz, Holly Hunter	Brian Tufano, Danny Boyle		R	The acclaimed Trainspotting trio (director Danny Boyle, producer Andrew Macdonald, scripter John Hodge) reunited for this update of '30s screwball comedies and '40s fantasies, such as Here Comes Mr. Jordan(1941), Angel on My Shoulder(1946), Down to Earth(1947), and the 1946 Stairway to Heaven (co-directed by Macdonald's grandfather, Emeric Pressburger). Tossed together for $12 million, the result is a combination salad, a surreal salmagundi with an added animated sequence for lagniappe. In Heaven, Gabriel (Dan Hedaya) sends angels O'Reilly (Holly Hunter) and Jackson (Delroy Lindo) down to Earth to make two people fall in love. If the angels fail, they must remain on Earth. The target couple: well-to-do Celine (Cameron Diaz) and impoverished, aspiring novelist Robert (Ewan McGregor), a janitor at the corporation owned by her wealthy father, Naville (Ian Holm). Robert loses his job, kidnaps Celine, and the two retreat to a mountain hideout where they discuss splitting the ransom. O'Reilly and Jackson plan to make Robert and Celine love each other by putting them in jeopardy, so the two angels get hired on by Naville as bounty hunters. Although Robert and Celine argue, they also sing and dance together at a local karaoke bar, a scene evocative of both Dennis Potter's Karaoke and the memorable karaoke performance by Cameron Diaz in My Best Friend's Wedding. The angels make few gains, but when Jackson is on the brink of killing Robert, Celine comes to his rescue. Naville cancels Celine's credit card, so she robs a bank. Robert is shot during the robbery, and Celine has dentist Elliot (Stanley Tucci) remove the bullet. Robert awakens, finds the two together, and knocks out Elliot, prompting an argument that leads Celine and Robert to separate. Plagued by his own problems, the angels kidnap Celine themselves, and as realizations mount, Celine eventually has Celine

HEART OF A DOG	Documentary	Feature	2015	Laurie Anderson	Laurie Anderson	Abramorama		"Hello, little bonehead. I'll love you forever." So begins HEART OF A DOG, Laurie Anderson's cinematic journey through love, death and language. Centering on Anderson's beloved rat terrier Lolabelle, who died in 2011, Heart of a Dog is a personal essay that weaves together childhood memories, video diaries, philosophical musings on data collection, surveillance culture and the Buddhist conception of the afterlife, and heartfelt tributes to the artists, writers, musicians and thinkers who inspire her. Fusing her own witty, inquisitive narration with original violin compositions, hand-drawn animation, 8mm home movies and artwork culled from exhibitions past and present, Anderson creates a hypnotic, collage-like visual language out of the raw materials of her life and art, examining how stories are constructed and told - and how we use them to make sense of our lives.

CHARADE	Comedy, Mystery,Romance	Feature	1963	Audrey Hepburn,James Coburn,Cary Grant,Walter Matthau	Stanley Donen	Universal Pictures	NR		The first shot of Charade shows a pistol swinging ominously into close-up and Audrey Hepburn gets a squirt of water right in the eye. And so it goes: Charade is an elegant thriller that manages to spoof its genre while at the same time is unusually suspenseful. Cary Grant and Audrey Hepburn play the leads, keeping their cool under preposterous twists in a deadly chase through Parisian settings. The supporting heavies also include James Coburn, George Kennedy, and Walter Matthau. A combination of gowns by Givenchy, five corpses and a percussive score by Henry Mancini gives rise to a seriously stylish and witty film. Charade in its own way, is one of the most radical and experimental films of the '60s.

LEGO: THE ADVENTURES OF CLUTCH POWERS		Feature	2010					The LEGO organization is run by a small, elite group of scientists, engineers, teachers, historians and librarians. (Yes, librarians.) But every one is a multi-talented adventurer, and even the guy who knows the Dewey Decimal System by heart can also snap a twenty-ton beam onto a stanchion while dangling over a thousand-foot ravine... underwater. That's the LEGO team: whenever, wherever, they'll build it, fix it, solve it. ? But sometimes, there are problems even the top LEGO scientists can't solve as individuals and this is the focus of our story. The universe's most vile and evil villains have escaped their cells on the prison planet and have taken over the base. That's when the head of the LEGO Organization, Kjeld Playwell, calls upon the elite of the elite to work together as a team. Leading the team is Clutch Powers. But Clutch likes to work alone, as do his teammates, Brick Masterson, Bernie Von Beam and Peg Mooring. Unfortunately, their inability to work together as a team exacerbates the problem and the villains escape. They are able to track Mallock the Malign, an evil wizard, back to the planet Ashlar, a world of swords and sorcery and castles built from might and magic. There they must begin to work together as a team and partner with a young prince if they are to take back Ashlar from Mallock's evil reign. As Clutch's father once told him, "they must build on each other" if they are going to succeed and by the way, they also must fight hordes of skeleton armies, fire breathing dragons and giant trolls.

LIFE AND ADVENTURES OF SANTA CLAUS, THE (2000)		Feature	2000	Robby Benson,Dixie Carter,Carlos Alazraqui	Glen Hill		G	Many centuries ago, a baby abandoned at the edge of an enchanted forest was adopted and raised by a beautiful wood nymph. Thus began the life story of Santa Claus as told by "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" author L. Frank Baum. It is an amazing life, filled with adventure, from his truly magical childhood through to his discovery of his life's work - making children happy. Every tradition surrounding him is explained, from toys, stockings and lighted trees to reindeer and sleigh. Along the way, many problems have to be solved, from how to get into houses without being seen, to stopping the evil schemes of the child-hating Awgwas. Baum knows how to weave an enchanting tale, and this one delivers one that children of all ages will love. An unforgettable and beautifully animated film that is destined to become a holiday classic.

JUST MY LUCK - FORMAT		Feature						JUST MY LUCK is a primetime reality game show where four contestants in our studio compete for a very special prize - the trip of a lifetime. But exactly what kind of vacation is awarded will be decided by a series of random choices. When it's time to discover how they'll be dressed on this very special trip, each contestant will trust their luck and select one of the envelopes that our host has to offer. Will they be going away dressed in a baby's romper suit? In a pair of pajamas? In a Hawaiian shirt and a grass skirt? In a Pierre Cardin tuxedo? As an 80's punk clubber? Or as a traffic cop? Will their vacation paradise be a sun-kissed beach in the Caribbean? A small airport in the middle of Idaho? Las Vegas? The Arctic tundra? A nuclear power plant? Or an old pub on the coast of Ireland? There are four contestants and six envelopes. They know what they have chosen in each round, but their opponents don't. As we eliminate our contestants one by one, they can only stay in the game if they answer our general knowledge questions correctly. And in each round, they can either stick with the choice they have made, blindly swap with another contestant or pick one of the envelopes that have not been chosen in that round. As the show goes on, our contestants use their luck to find out where they'll be going, what their new hair-style will be, what kind of food they'll be eating, how they'll be dressed and most importantly, who'll be going with them. And we'll have cameras there for their very special trip! JUST MY LUCK - a unique, primetime, studio-based fun show where luck decides your future.

JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAM COAT		Feature	2000	Joan Collins, Maria Friedman, Donny Osmond, Richard Attenborough, Ian McNeice	David Mallet			The story of Joseph begins 'Way way back, many centuries ago'... Joseph, the youngest, has eleven brothers and they live in Canaan with their father, Jacob. Joseph is not only the youngest son, but also his father's favourite. Not surprisingly, his brothers are extremely jealous and matters worsen when Jacob gives Joseph an 'amazing coat of many colours'. He flaunts it in front of them and infuriates them further by telling them his dreams - one of which predicts he will rise above them all. The brothers are incensed and plot to kill Joseph but settle on selling him into slavery. They watch as some Ishmaelites take him off in chains to Egypt, then kill a goat, dip the precious coat in its blood and return home feigning grief. Joseph is sold to an honourable millionaire, Potiphar, whose wife soon attempts to seduce him. This results in Potiphar having Joseph sent to jail where, alone, he laments 'Close every door to me'. But, soon, Pharaoh's Butler and Baker, out of favour with their master, join him. Joseph interprets their dreams and predicts a return to favour for the Butler and approaching execution for the Baker. News of Joseph's skill reaches the flamboyant Pharaoh (who has more than a passing resemblance to Elvis Presley). He tells Joseph his dream and Joseph is able to predict seven years of plentiful harvest in Egypt followed by seven years of famine. Pharaoh is impressed, frees Joseph and nominates him as the man to lead the country through the crisis. His success results in his becoming Pharaoh's right-hand man. Meanwhile, back in Canaan, they are unprepared for famine and in need of food. Joseph's brothers wonder if they misjudged him and set off for Egypt where they end up begging at the feet of a grand and powerful man they do not recognise as their younger brother. Joseph plays a trick to test them and, satisfied, reveals his true identity. Finally, Jacob

The only men who survive are those who revel in war and destruction - like Sergeant Steiner. And men who won't risk their necks for anything - like Captain Stransky. Stransky is new to the ugliness of the front-line battle, but determined to win himself some glory before he returns home. The one thing he wants above all is the supreme symbol of bravery, the Iron Cross. And he wants Steiner to win it for him - and get blown apart while doing so. But Steiner isn't known as a rebel for nothing. Stransky's determination to obtain that coveted emblem of bravery at whatever cost is the background to Sam Peckinpah's gripping story of men living at extremes and fighting for their lives.

MEDEA	Drama,Fantasy	Feature	1971	Margareth Clementi,Anna Maria Chio,Mirella Panfili,Gianpaolo Duregon,Luigi Barbini,Graziella Chiarocci,Maria Callas,Gerard Weiss,Giuseppe Gentile,Massimo Girotti,Paul Jabara,Laurent Terzieff,Sergio Tramonti	Pier Paolo Pasolini	New Line Cinema	NR	Put in the coldest possible terms, Medea is the story of a woman who gets sore at her husband and kills her children to get even. As such, it is likely that this classic 5th-century BC Euripides play would nowadays run afoul of the political correctness brigade. Greek opera diva Maria Callas is certainly in her element as Medea in this 1970 film version of the venerable theatrical piece, with Giuseppe Gentili as her husband Jason and Massimo Girotti as her father, King Creon. When Jason announces that he's prepared to bigamously marry princess Glauce (Margareth Clementi), she exacts her bloody revenge. Despite the excess verbiage and his notoriously loquacious leading lady, director Pier Paolo Pasolini conveys most of Medea's plotline visually.
